Twitter is launching a new, more streamlined version of its website. It is abandoning its classic "flaming Tweets" approach to fighting spam, and instead looks to the recently-launched Vine video service as a more user-friendly way to find offending material. It also plans to put some of its efforts into making spam less effective, by removing abusive mentions of politicians from people's timelines. Twitter is giving it a go, and it will announce it has taken down its latest batch of offending tweets today. But it hasn't decided to walk away from the type of social network that grew up around tweets. The change is a shot in the arm for Vine, the six-second video service launched on Monday. It's the fastest way to share short videos on the web, and could be the basis of a new generation of media

R. L. Stapler Richard Leighton Stapler (April 11, 1901 – May 26, 1987) was an American football player and coach. He played college football at the University of Nebraska and professionally for one season in the National Football League (NFL) with the Canton Bulldogs. Early life and college career Stapler was born in Chicago, Illinois and attended the University of Nebraska where he played at the guard position under head coach Doc Elliott. He was the first player to win the Big 6-A title and conference player of the year. Professional career Stapler was drafted in the 12th round (29th overall) by the Canton Bulldogs in the 1926 NFL Draft, but chose not to play. He served as the head football coach at Omaha High School in 1929, where his teams went 11–3–1. What's New In?

Wallpaper Cycler allows you to add more than 100 images to your desktop and change them as often as you like. This program gives you an extensive control of the wallpaper settings and adds a new dimension to changing the desktop. The app has a simple layout and a clean design. Thus, you only need to add the images you want, choose the layout, assign a name, and browse the discs. Then, you can view any of the images in a thumbnail. Their width and height are displayed next to them. Furthermore, you can select the way it covers the screen by choosing one of the available options, such as “Stretch”, “Stretch to fill”, “Stretch to height”, “Stretch to width” or “Tile”, to name just a few. A background color can be selected, as well as one for the text. Furthermore, when one of the images covers the screen you can use that to launch a certain application. A time delay can be set up for the wallpapers. The cycle can go from a few seconds to a number of years or you may add specific times when the images should change. Also, the order in which they appear can be chosen as well. All in all, Wallpaper Cyclor is a nice program that can be fun to have around. Less experienced users should find it easy to handle, thanks to the intuitive layout and the app's overall simplicity.
