After the mysterious event that took place in the outskirts of the planet Tereshkova, every inhabitant of the moon receives a powerful and mysterious weapon. The new weapon allows turning a regular battle into a real war. They call it the Vortex – a mysterious weapon that will change everything. Your mission is to control this mysterious weapon. You must fight against an enemy fleet, take part in the war for control over the planet and achieve the victory of Tereshkova. Each player is a warrior, who has a spaceship and a powerful weapon. Players are divided into factions – the Union, The Alliance, The City and The Resistance. Each faction has its own characteristics and advantages: • The Union faction is an all-purpose organization. It supplies fighters and also builds fighters. The Union is strongest in base building. • The Alliance faction consists of pilots who fight and launch their fighters. However, the Alliance does not build fighters. • The City is a unique faction whose scientists and specialists develop a powerful weapon. The City does not build any ships. • The Resistance is the enemy of all other factions. They fight for their own survival. The Resistance are the only individuals who, after the Vortex event, have a simple, effective means of survival. Combat Throughout the game, the players will fight in the air, on the ground, and on the moon surface. A true space battle! Players use the powerful weapon to do a specific action. Air battles are the most exciting part of Star Conflict. Players use the weapon – a rifle – to shoot at the enemy. Players need to be constantly on alert. The fights are complicated and dangerous. The players can be spotted by the enemy fleet before a proper battle. To escape, a pilot has to boost the speed of their ship and get rid of the enemy fleet. Dedicated players will face even more enemies during the fight. A typical battle consists of many enemies flying around, attacking the main player's ship, and disappearing behind. Players can see when they are being attacked, but they do not see when and where the enemy will attack from. Anyone who commits mistakes will be destroyed by enemy fighters and quickly lose their ship. Ground battles. Players need to protect their base from enemy attacks. In addition to your own ship, players can also use ground elements, such as barricades, which are placed in front of the base to reduce damage. Players can also build defensive turrets on top of the walls. An active player c9d1549cdd
