Loot Rascals is a space roguelike where you play as a pirate. In order to survive, you need to find treasure, flee from space pirates, outwit scheming scientists, fight pirate rumbles and keep your head for the long haul. Make your way through the galaxy while collecting loot and skills to upgrade your character and craft a potent weapon or you will quickly become just another dead scoundrel. Space Pirates: Forged from a distant corner of the galaxy, the Space Pirates have a super acute sense of the value of all things. The high price of their booty and the weight of their moral convictions conspire to keep piracy as the default occupation of all those who live beyond the blessed waters of the Jokester. Pirates: The Pirate Captain is the top dog among Space Pirates. He is the captain of the space ship, his mission to loot the universe, and his duty to enforce the Pirate Code. Scientists: Don't let the white coats fool you, scientists are among the most evil of space pirates. Their research agendas push them to create engines that push themselves beyond the breaking point. Professor Pangliff: The founder and leader of the scientific branch of the Space Pirates. Grandmaster Pangliff is the nemesis of all pirates, from the Dark Fissure to the Treasure Isles, he is always looking to outwit his fellow pirates. Mister Brightwinkle: Lead scientist of the scientific branch of the Space Pirates. Mister Brightwinkle is a scientist who has more degrees and less style than his boss. Grip: Crew First: 'I've made it through the first hundred games, and I feel more than capable of getting the job done.' Rascally Relaxation: 'You're a Reaver and a Bandit, always ready and willing to do someone's dirty work. You may want to take it easy, but the other Reavers would have your ass if they knew you were slacking off.' The Delightful Fields of Pangliff: 'You have trained hard in the arts of life, and now you are ready to make your mark on the galaxy. There are those who will envy your skills but more than them all, you long for the day when you can challenge the ultimate pirates and win.' The Beguiling Fens of Dank Warmth: 'You are a tribal leader, a Viking Bold Viking of the Battlegroup. Your warriors call you "Brave Magnak"'

Why play this version?

This is just for fun. You'll probably not shoot wolves with bow, use pumpkin bombs or cast dragon egg breath. There's no way to control them, realistically. Game's currently not complete at all (maybe next year). so it's just a concept prototype. Game flow looks like this:

You're playing as a bear cub. You start with fists and can't attack. When you manage to hit a human, they'll instantly transform into bear. Humans that were not hit by fists just transform into stone statues.

Most likely, this game's going to be playable in some sort of RPG Maker online contest, so it's better to prepare for such a kind of contests. In that regards, this game isn't an RPG Maker project but a

The Prisoner is a 2.5D Runner-Platformer in which you play a prisoner who got kidnapped in a very ominous world filled with dark matter, ships and other creatures. As you run, jump and roll through this strange world, you'll constantly find areas that you've already been to. Somehow you don't really remember it, as if this environment was a dream. As such, you will have to explore every single area for the first time to unlock it. This game uses a familiar structure of common Runner games, but unlike so many, The Prisoner doesn't just throw in a bunch of jumping, running and jumping. Instead, there are several obstacles you'll have to avoid. Collecting all of them should be a tricky task, and if you look behind you, it won't be hard to find something that won't end well. As you explore the world, a mysterious man is trying to stop you from discovering something in the dark matter. As you're having a look around, you'll stumble upon the totally unexpected, and you will experience the sensation of being in a dream. As you've probably guessed, this world is not your ordinary environment. It's going to challenge and challenge you, and you'll have to overcome these obstacles that stand in your way. First time I played I got stuck in the level with the first locked door. Found the Sigil and after that everything was fine. At about level 6 I came accross this weird grey area and I thought I had died. It wasn't until I tried to start the game again and got booted back to the landing screen that I was like wtf is this a new game? I didn't have time to figure out what happened so I reloaded my saved game and that was it. If anyone has the save anywhere I would really like to give this game another play through. Waking up in a cage, alone and naked, you find yourself in a strange world that looks really familiar. After an hour of exploring a large hall is painted in red paint, and this is where you'll start. All your effort and skills will be needed here, and you're not alone in this adventure. A mysterious man is following you, and you don't know where to go next. You'll have to collect Sigils and complete tasks to unlock doors and levels. It's good to know that you can save your game at any time, because if you get stuck c9d1549cdd
