Play the best 3D shooter with horror elements. Fight mad animals that want to kill you. Most of them have a back. Fight while moving, crawling. You are the only escaped person. The killers are lurking. One of the purposes is gathering all weapons on your way - ammos, guns, aid kit etc. Don't stay in the dark. Fire and shoot. Horror and shooting - classic formula of this genre. If you like games with 3D elements, dark and hard scenes then give a shot to PSIONIC. Game modes: - Only try - Survive - Time attack - Try to finish the level in the shortest time - Death Match - Be the first kill the next players The more the enemies

you kill, the more points you get. If you are in the lead, you play in the next round with higher difficulty. The difficulties are: - Hard - Very hard levels - Harder - They are also hard - Hardest - Even harder levels - Hardest - Very hard levels PSIONIC - is a quirky 3D shooter with heavy action, extreme moves, and gore. The violent game has online feature and it is thrilling with its adrenaline rush, stylish scene and many graphic effects. Some early reviews of PSIONIC: > "It's a good old war between beasts and man. Nobody wins. The monsters are insane. And the player is just a second witness to this clash of evil. It's an interesting concept but it fails in execution. Combat is dull and repetitive. The permadeath feature only adds more point to the game." > "It's difficult to recommend anyone buy this game. It's just too rough and brutal. It's one of the very few games you could possibly play with a pair of glasses." > "This game will test your patience, but the enjoyable gameplay will surely win you over." > "This game will either knock you off your seat, or ruin your entire day." > "If you've been craving for a horror shooter game that also gives you a hardcore challenge, then this game is just what you're looking for." > "Even though this game is rough around the edges, it's still one of the best 3D shooters you can play. The gameplay is extremely addictive." > "You'll be thankful for the death and blood." >

Bazaar is the labyrinth found inside your head. It's a huge place full of wonders, a magical city with its own rules. The object of the game is to reach the exit. How do you get to the exit? Only by managing a set of movable tokens along the way, by following the rules of the maze, to the exit. The game is highly challenging, focused on the skill of the player. Each of the game's levels has a unique movement pattern that must be memorized to complete the level. The mechanics of the game are very simple, but the sensation of the game is quite intense. Craft the experiences of your life. Original soundtrack.

Saga of Clarent Saga of Clarent follows the experiments of scientists Niel de Brower and Talon Vaughn, who through the use of artificially created mutant consciousnesses in human hosts, gains total control of their cities. Talon Vaughn has recently begun to create androids named 'smart' droids, capable of complex mimicry of human personalities, and communication with one another. This 'event' is soon to be turned back on and Vaughn will seek to destroy the other worlds he has discovered. Project 117 also seeks to control the cities and is allied with Talon Vaughn as they seek the 'supreme consciousness'. The player(s) begin the game by heading for their mothership and taking out the targeting system. After configuring the game, it automatically loads into the planet. The three main player characters enter the city and begin to investigate how to escape the computer controlled reality they are in. The player can choose their own starting areas, but the story and characters will continue even if one player chooses to leave the city at a later point. The player(s) will explore the three dimensional landscapes and gain knowledge of the city and information that is only accessible to their character. The cities can be explored interactively to enter each level and gain and discard items to aid their journey. Resources are not automatically shared, and any player that has explored a certain location will not be able to access it later on. Anyone that wanders off the map to explore a location on their own will die if the player is not close to help or has no defined area of expertise, and exploration is not the concern of a player living in a city, though such a player might gain knowledge from exploring the universe. As the player(s) gain information, they can choose to action the character who tells them the information, to change locations, or to resign from the quest. Each character will share the same goal, as well as have some unique interests and concerns. Surroundings of the City To find out about the world surrounding the city, each character will have a companion that is 2 levels above their experience. By paying attention to their companion's dialogue and actions, the player can begin to see the world they are in and the quest the city is on. It should be made clear that the choice of companions is limited to one of the three main characters. Only the first of the three main characters will 'speak' during the game. Their adventures give the player examples

After the birth of a new world, the world of the Three Kingdoms, in China, the world became a place where even strong conflicts and merciless wars were fought. From the largest nation, Wei, which was strong in the Center, to the smallest nation, Wu, which was strong on the West Coast, the land was ruled by five powerful nations. Thus the Three Kingdoms was born. Among these kingdoms, there were large differences in military strength. Wu was a nation with a strategic force of darters, cavalry knights, and infantry and they were capable of executing surprise attacks due to the high mobility of light horsemen. Wu's powerful archers and archery skills were legendary. They could shoot targets from ten miles away. Wei was the country of the elite soldiers, but they were weak on defense. Wei also had best soldiers on foot, who were strong in defense. The strong force in the Wei Army was the heavy cavalry knights, who were like tanks but were more flexible and mobile. Jin was a savage nation, and the best guerilla fighters. The average Jin person was armed with a naginata and hatchet. Jin had a special Ninja armed with a sword and chain dagger. Qi was a nation of martial arts fighters. In addition to the usual weapons, they used the long spear and half-sword. The main weapons of Qi were the staff and the long spear. Their main tactics were to quickly attack using the martial arts of the staff and spear. Yue was a nation of experts in the art of the crossbow. They had the best archers and crossbow infantry. Their training method was to fire crossbow bolts two shots in one. The shock of the crossbow shook the ground and inflicted damage on enemies. Xia was a country of bond warriors who were capable of fighting even in the dark. Their main weapons were the spear and shield. Yue was an era when battle between nations often featured martial arts. The differences between the techniques of the spear and the long spear made it easy to form a combined army. "Romance of the Three Kingdoms VI
