Key Features: ✓ Simple and accessible user interface ✓ Tracks and collects all the hard disk volumes ✓ Accesses via scroll lock button ✓ Collects all the hard disk volumes ✓ Identifies any abnormal activity. Verdict Whether you are an HDD user or not, Scroll Lock HDD LED Product Key is sure to be a useful tool for identifying potential issues with your hard disks. 7 comments Dude, May I suggest you also try Disk Monitor. I do not think the Scroll lock functionality is used much, but it works, on my DELL Latitude LS240 it turns blue and grey, and the volume indicator lights up. Toodles What, no mention of Disk Monitor? Please note that it offers more features than Scroll Lock HDD LED. It also comes with a reporting utility for helping you identify issues you may not know are occurring. Thanks for the tip, but I'd still like to recommend Disk Monitor. With Disk Monitor, I can access all the volumes of the hard disk and also find out whether there are system errors or data corruption issues. Hi, Thank you for taking the time to write a review. I'm sorry to hear that you didn't find out what you were looking for. If you still have issues connecting to the application, you can send me a message via this link; Good luck. Can you provide details on this issue? I'm not sure I understand your issue with Scroll Lock, as you mentioned it's just for the LED itself. Hi, Hi, thank you for replying. I'm sorry for the late response. Since the hard disk is still working but is causing issues with the warning indication, I'm currently using Windows 7. I also tried Windows 8 and 7.5, and those are the only operating systems I could create a shortcut for. As for the details, when I try to open the application via the system tray button, it doesn't seem to work. It opens Windows Explorer and shows the directories for each HDD (

The application makes it possible to have an LED on your hard disk in a visible place. It lets you see its state right away and can work even when your notebook or PC does not have the LED to begin with. You can also connect USB, SATA and IDE drives to your notebook and computer. In addition, the app can detect when your drive is about to fail. Top reviews The next version of Windows operating system is highly anticipated as it would come with new features that would please users. For example, Windows 10 is expected to have a new host operating system system, which would integrate mobile apps and software. However, the operating system would also make a dramatic shift, as it would offer a new look that would be more similar to the one that will be offered by the next Windows Phone. If you frequently use your mobile device for email and other tasks, you will be happy to know that you can access your inbox right from the notification area right next to the time and date. It would show a new icon that would contain the word “email.” On a Samsung device, for example, you can find it under Settings - Notifications. The advantage of this “inbox” is that you will not have to access the email applications, such as Gmail, Windows Live Mail, Yahoo Mail and so on, in order to find out what you have in your inbox. Windows Phone 8 allows you to sort contacts in a hierarchy. As you choose a group in the Contacts app, you will be able to display them in sub-groups, or categories. This way, you can access the contacts in different ways and make it easier for you to find the right one. The Windows application does not limit users from hacking. As you might know, many banks and financial institutions are adopting the newest version of the software that would work for most of their customers. However, the official update is no longer being offered for the Windows 8.1 OS. Even when the update is available, it should be noted that it still uses Windows 8.1's code and features, which is why hackers, who have the coding skills, might be able to get in. As you might imagine, this is highly possible and could happen in a number of ways. If you pay close attention to the Internet of Things, you will know that many of them are being sold at a reasonable price, so that users could have better information about them. Whether it is

An app that monitors HDD and shows you various HDD LED usage stats. You will be able to access the application from the System Tray. You can follow Scroll Lock HDD LED on Google+. Highly recommended are the specific programs in this category. You can operate programs that you have not even noticed before. To be able to use it, you will need to download and install it on your system. What's a good calendaring application? Should I use Apple iCal or Microsoft Outlook? What about Wildstrom iCal? We are going to take a look at how these compare to each other. When you add a new event, as well as existing ones, you have the option to opt for a repetitive or unique reminder. That means that if you have set a recurrent reminder for a certain day, then you have to re-enter that date again when you choose a different event. Click the given link to learn more about Wildstrom iCal A view of the various app features for iCal There are several ways you can schedule your events. This is going to depend a lot on what type of event you are creating.

1. Day View In case you have to specify multiple dates for a single event, you can use the Day View option, where you can simply pick and choose the ones you want to add to the calendar.
2. Folder View You can also create a folder on the calendar in order to organize and group your events together. This gives you the option to create a view of the calendar, where you can assign names to each folder.
3. Recurring Events When creating recurring events, you will have to choose between All-day, every day, some days and single days. They are found in the Settings option of the app.
4. Sub-events It is also possible to add sub-events in iCal. With this, you can have different view for different subsets of your events.
5. Custom List A Custom List can be added to the iCal calendar in order to create a view of every event you have ever added to the calendar.
6. Event View The event view option can be used to schedule a single event on a particular day. You can have a recurring view. 7. Time Picker In case you need to specify the exact time for a certain event, then you can do

What's New in the Scroll Lock HDD LED?

-- In order to prevent loss of data, we have the best program to monitor your hard disk. Just connect your HDD to the USB port of your notebook, desktop computer or laptop and run the program. You will be able to control over your hard disk activity and detect any problems that may arise. Scroll Lock HDD LED Price: Features: - Supports all HDD and SSD types - Disable / enable key - Monitor capacity and S.M.A.R.T. - Brightness control - Put a stop to failed HDDs Summary 1) Plus it has a nice function to disable the LED :) 2) No Interface 3) Requires more Disk space 4) Can't record anything 5) I am still not convinced it monitors use of space (One tends to defrag once in a while) Rating: Review: If you're the kind of person who doesn't want your data to become inaccessible because of a mechanical failure, I recommend you also check out the Disk Spin Speed Monitor. It's not strictly HDD related, but it will check your HDD's rotation speed, so you'll be able to get an idea of what's happening behind the scenes. Disk Spin Speed Monitor is a small desktop application that connects to your hard disk and gives you a way to monitor its speed. You can tell if something is wrong with the hard disk by simply watching the LED, just like you do with HDD light on your notebook, but this time, it won't be linked to the hard disk health status or a physical problem, but rather to the speed of the disk. It's not the most intuitive thing in the world, so you may not know what you're seeing. Even though the LED is not the best-designed thing in the world, it's still practical. If the LED starts glowing after an update or a specific time of usage, you know it's time for some maintenance. I do not recommend using Disk Spin Speed Monitor for systems that are not frequently used. It needs some time to acquire the data you need, so a slow HDD will not provide it in time. This is where having a hard disk that is backed up regularly is indispensable, so it's best you check its quality at home. To be honest, I don't use Disk Spin Speed Monitor that often, only when I have to. I have my external hard disk on when I'm not in the office and it still happens to work fine, but
