My only request is that the patch only adds the subtitle of Annie not the dub. Thank you! P.S. This is an autotag, right click to reply/submit comments to this post Dont hate, just think it's a very small bug, can't make a big fuss about it.Q: What did I do wrong when sending my first challenge attempt? The first time I sent a challenge, all I see is my username. I am probably seeing the points I got when I sent it. But I don't see anything about any server error. What is the usual way of finding out what could be wrong if you try to send a challenge that you have not previously tried? A: We disabled this to prevent people from accidentally cheating. Hopefully the number of players you end up with is reasonable but we will reinstate the display in a future build. There are two ways that a publisher in the EU can handle the matter of the Referendum, either it starts a campaign to allow people to vote on freedom (or at least they have the option to do so) or it doesn't. Such a decision would be especially noticeable if one of the big publishing houses, i.e. a publishing house with a turnover of more than 20 million Euros per annum, e.g. Elsevier, were to not allow access to Referendum materials. Which option they would choose would largely depend on whether there would be a referendum campaign. However, in that case, the question whether the referendum is in the public interest of the EU would be a matter of debate. Michael, I would leave the sovereignty to the EU. I wouldn't put things like the European Charter of Human rights or the Lisbon Treaty above the people that those things were designed to protect. I would put the people of the UK first, with the EU in second.Mulga Mulga, also known as Lady Carrick, is a convict site in West Australia. It is located on the southern coast of the Recherche Archipelago and is home to the Mulga Station. The site was established in the 1950s and the use of convicts to work the area began in the 1960s.
