I have a company that I've been working on for a few months now, and it's starting to take off. I've been thinking about building up a business model that takes all of the things I'm doing and combines them into something even more powerful. I'm thinking it's worth pouring all of my time into these two projects at the same time, but I'd like to discuss it with the folks on HN before I do anything major. I've got a few specific questions for folks, but feel free to throw out any good ideas/solutions/suggestions too. Thanks in advance! ===== thomasmallen Can you elaborate on what you mean by a "business model"? Are you planning to collaborate with someone on this idea, or will it be a solo project? ~~~ c6a93da74d
